Rory's rich and vibrant landscapes have gained international as well as national recognition. His work resides in public and private collections both here in the UK and abroad.

A graduate of the Chelsea School of Art, Rory seeks to reflect the beauty of the created world through his work. Whether focusing on cityscapes, mountains or the coast, his work never ceases to engage the viewer. Rory says of his work, 'It is my intention within each work to capture a sense of time and place. I would hope to present the viewer with a distilled image that would elicit a response of "I've been there!" My work often alludes to a spiritual as well as a physical presence.'

Rory has been the recipient of many prestigious awards over the years and he is a regular contributor to the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition.

From the artist

Globally and individually we have been through the most challenging of times over the past two years. Many people have suffered greatly and there have been times of considerable 'darkness'. These verses at the beginning of John's Gospel (opposite) talk about the darkness 'not' overcoming the light which is the Light of all mankind. We have seen innumerable instances where this has been true, whether through the altruism of care and health workers or of individuals recovering from COVID-19 against the odds.
I find such instances inspirational. Light is the source of all life, and as we emerge from the pandemic, our need for this Light is perhaps more apparent than ever before.

As an artist I have been inspired by light coming through clouds or shining on water.
Family trips to Scotland over the last two years have been a catalyst for this exploration.
I have tried to convey a sense of light emerging and triumphing over surrounding darkness and acting as a focal point. I hope, as you view this catalogue and the 100 or so paintings in the exhibition, you will feel uplifted by the light.

In him was life, and that light was the light of all mankind. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it.
