'Anyone who drinks this water will soon become thirsty again. But those who drink the water I give will never be thirsty again. It becomes a fresh, bubbling spring within them, giving them eternal life.'

John 4:13-14

'Living Waters'

Water is such a fundamental part of our human existence. It is therefore so salutary and sad that huge swathes of our global community (696 million people) have to contend with water scarcity. It is interesting that within these verses, from the book of John, Christ recognised the importance of water both in a physical and a spiritual sense. I have always been inspired by the movement of water in its various natural states. I hope that the 70 or so paintings within this exhibition capture the vibrancy and innate value of 'water' and cause us to reflect on the needs of others, as well as our need for the living water of Jesus and his love in our own lives.

Rory's rich and vibrant landscapes have gained international as well as national recognition. His work resides in public and private collections both here in the UK and abroad. A graduate of the Chelsea School of Art, Rory seeks to reflect the beauty of the created world through his work. Whether focusing on cityscapes, mountains or the coast, his work never ceases to engage the viewer. Rory says of his work, 'It is my intention within each work to capture a sense of time and place. I would hope to present the viewer with a distilled image that would elicit a response of "I've been there!" My work often alludes to a spiritual as well as a physical presence.'

Rory has been the recipient of many prestigious awards over the years and he is a regular contributor to the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition.
